Dragos Pop

Senior Product Manager | Experimentation, CRO Strategy| Gen AI PM | Driving Revenue | Growth
Barcelona, Catalonia, Spain

Summary

Senior Product Manager with 10+ years of experience in Digital Growth. 5 years in Product management. Overall i'm good at scaling revenue, optimization programs and infrastructure for platforms across SaaS, enterprise, and global agency networks - now with a focus on generative AI My path to product was forged on the front lines. I started as a door-to-door encyclopedia salesman (what a ride..), transitioned into digital sales, and ultimately moved into conversion rate optimization (CRO) and product management. Along the way, I moved countries twice, changed industries multiple times, and built a career centered on understanding how users behave.I established my foundation on the startup and agency side, managing user channels for a CRO SaaS platform before moving to a performance agency to manage monetization and cross-market partnerships. Later, as an optimization strategist at a global digital agency, I designed data-driven frameworks for market-leading enterprise brands to drive measurable uplifts in transaction volumes and direct revenue. I then moved client-side to launch the first-ever product experimentation program for a major international industrial automation company.Most recently, at Gartner Digital Markets, I owned the conversion roadmaps and monetization funnels for high-traffic B2B search domains, managing over 2.5 million monthly sessions and increasing core conversion metrics by up to 15% while scaling testing velocity 4x.Following G2's acquisition of the business, I transitioned to lead product and go-to-market ownership for Content Studio. I currently focus on consolidating legacy content pipelines into self-serve AI platforms, scaling early-stage beta tools, and managing technical partnerships with vendors like OpenAI to ground generative systems in high-value marketplace data.My core skill set covers product strategy, technical execution, data-driven guardrails, and managing alignment across engineering, UX, and C-suite leadership.

Experience

G2

Senior Product Manager

February 2026 - Present (10 months)

Barcelona, Catalonia, Spain

* Role transitioned via the acquisition of Gartner Digital Markets (GDM) in Feb 2026. *

I took over product and go-to-market (GTM) ownership of Content Studio. I consolidated all content formats under this platform and scaled it from a 10-partner closed beta into a self-serve system, driving a 119% increase in weekly active users within the first quarter.

Product Strategy & Vendor Management:

• Shipped a product pivot from static asset delivery to a self-serve experience where vendors use prompts to generate content dynamically.
• Led teams to integrate all legacy and new formats into the pipeline, using G2 reviews, badges, and reports as grounding sources.
• Shipped multi-level editing and regeneration features to adjust copy and modify aspect ratios for social media platforms.
• Managed the technical relationship with OpenAI, leading twice-weekly syncs to evaluate models and successfully migrate infrastructure.
• Learned internal codebases to build workflows, configure automations, and independently ship production code changes via code reviews.

Operational Efficiency & Metrics:

• Reconfigured Jira and Kanban frameworks to protect engineering and UX teams from ad-hoc requests, improving sprint velocity.
• Reduced asset quality defect ratios from 41% to under 10% (75% improvement).
• Cut asset generation times from over 10 minutes to under 3 minutes (70% reduction).
• Partnered with analytics to implement funnel event tracking via Amplitude behavioral cohorts to monitor speed and retention.

Executive Leadership & Partner Management:

• Present bi-weekly updates on metrics, blockers, and growth directly to the Co-Founder, SVP of Product, and GM of AI.
• Selected to present product vision and milestones to the entire company during cross-functional showcases every six weeks.
• Saved high-risk accounts by working directly with client founders, converting them into champions who publish assets on their sites.

Gartner

4 years

Senior CRO Product Manager

February 2024 - February 2026 (2 years 1 month)
Barcelona, Catalonia, Spain

I owned the product vision, roadmap execution, and monetization framework across high-traffic B2B search domains within the Gartner Digital Markets portfolio, managing 2.5 million monthly user sessions.
Growth & Monetization Strategy
• Conversion Funnel Strategy: Managed optimization loops across Pay Per Click (PPC) and Pay Per Lead (PPL) monetization models, improving matching accuracy and form completion rates.
• Revenue Architecture: Scaled main conversion funnels, category structures, catalog availability systems, and dynamic bidding flows across premium web properties (Capterra, Software Advice, GetApp).
• Quantified Growth Impact: Generated consistent revenue performance improvements, driving singular experiment conversion uplifts of up to 15%.
Process Infrastructure & Delivery
• Experimentation Velocity: Multiplied experimentation execution capacity 3x to 4x by rewriting team experimentation methodologies, building custom prioritization logic, and embedding structured risk matrix workflows.
• Quality Assurance Framework: Introduced strict pre-flight checks, 1st-hour production verifications, and 24-hour regression reviews, decreasing bug resolution windows and saving engineering support hours.
• Cross-Functional Scope: Directed feature delivery pipelines without direct reports by aligning UX designers, backend engineering squads, analytics groups, and functional executive stakeholders.

CRO Product Manager

March 2022 - February 2024 (2 years)
Barcelona, Catalonia, Spain

Directed conversion optimization initiatives across major search engine marketing (SEM) acquisition pages for flagship B2B software marketplaces, covering GetApp, Software Advice, and Capterra.

Executive Leadership & Stakeholder Influence

• C-Suite Exposure: Maintained a continuous reporting line and strategic alignment loop with the Managing Vice President (MVP) of Growth.

• High-Level Presenting: Selected to present product vision, milestone metrics, and core growth strategies directly to the global executive leadership team, including the Gartner Chief Marketing Officer (CMO)/ Head of GDM and regional MVPs.

• Corporate Culture Shift: Spearheaded recurring cross-functional stakeholder alignments to communicate experiment results, turning complex data points into actionable insights to establish a test-and-learn deployment culture across the organization.

Core Product Discovery & Platform Evaluation

• Enterprise Tool Stack Evaluation: Led the end-to-end audit and decommissioning evaluation of multiple feature-flag and ab testing tools, authoring the comprehensive platform comparison report that drove the parent Gartner organization's global migration and adoption of a new tool. Process to just a few week rather than months for a company like Gartner. (i'm humble too :D)

• Data Analytics & Operations:

Utilized GA4, FullStory, and PowerBI to model complex user behaviors, isolate customer journey friction events, and build quantitative growth hypotheses.

• Execution Platforms: Directed the experimentation backend via LaunchDarkly, managing feature flags, target audience allocations, and multivariate tracking code.

• Lifecycle Documentation: Owned the technical optimization backend across Jira, Confluence, Coda, and Productboard to direct backend roadmaps from initial opportunity discovery to final release loop evaluation.

Festo

Conversion and UX optimization

January 2021 - March 2022 (1 year 3 months)

Barcelona, Catalonia, Spain

Owned the global experimentation roadmap, vendor tool stack, and user experience optimization strategy for the Festo international digital sales platform.

• Core Product Discovery: Modeled incoming quantitative and qualitative user data to define feature hypotheses, map friction points, and build the long-term optimization product backlog.
• Vendor Selection & Budget Ownership: Secured executive budget approval and directed the end-to-end evaluation, procurement, and onboarding of enterprise analytics and optimization platforms including Hotjar and Kameleoon.
• Infrastructure Optimization: Standardized data-driven conversion rate optimization (CRO) methodologies across legacy systems, deploying the newly adopted international testing toolset to scale product insights across multiple target countries.
• Validation Frameworks: Introduced A/B testing and multivariate experimentation as the mandatory validation gate before engineering resource allocation, successfully scaling a corporate test-and-learn deployment culture.
• Cross-Functional Scope: Collaborated closely with localized product managers, analysts, and engineering squads to translate winning experimentation patterns into permanent, live platform features.

iProspect
Optimisation Executive
October 2018 - December 2020 (2 years 3 months)
Manchester, United Kingdom

Managed optimization and UX strategy for 7+ enterprise clients with 20+ websites across multiple markets, covering insurance, automotive leasing, and e-commerce.
• Financial Defect Catching: Used Google Analytics, ContentSquare, HotJar, and SessionCam to identify live website errors that would have cost hundreds of thousands of pounds if left unresolved.
• Revenue Generation: Designed testing patterns and hypotheses that delivered winning tests amounting to millions of pounds in incremental value, including a single project delivering over £500K in yearly value.
• Funnel Optimization: Shipped conversion adjustments that generated over 3,000 net new leads in 8 months and drove a 40% completion increase across checkout funnels.
• Stakeholder Alignment: Participated in weekly client syncs, quarterly business reviews, and annual performance meetings that secured long-term contract renewals and account upsells.
